

Wanted: Sales Partner for the Japanese Market

-Water Miscible Coolants-

Are you interested in being a part of a successful cooperation?

Dear Sir or Madam,

Oemeta is an international operating medium-sized family company located in Uetersen near Hamburg, Germany. Our focus is on industrial lubricants; globally more than 180 employees work for Oemeta.

The history of our company is characterized by its experience in the development, production and worldwide sales for already 100 years.

Oemeta is market leader of industrial lubricants owning subsidiaries in the USA, Canada, China, Singapore, India, Czech Republic, United Kingdom and Poland as well as sales partners in more than 30 countries. We are market leader in this technology due to innovation, future-oriented technologies and distinctive orientation to the customer.

Oemeta stands for flat hierarchies, open communication, continuous further training of its employees and excellent working conditions.

Our clients belong to the metal and glass working industry. We mainly cooperate with well-known manufacturers and suppliers of the automotive, aviation, semiconductor and medical industry.

In order to develop new foreign markets and broaden our export business we are looking for coolant experienced or branch related international sales partners distributing Oemeta coolants.

Are you interested or do you have any further questions?
